Nourishing Balancing Therapeutic

Clients often feel deeply peaceful, expansive and integrated from our healing sessions. I listen attentively to your words, body and energy, allowing them to guide me toward the specific care that is most nourishing for you. Some sessions focus on bringing ease to physical discomfort, pain, or injuries; others focus on your process of inner growth and your soul's evolution. Sessions are often experienced as multi-dimensional journeys that engage the fullness of your Being.

Throughout my life I have naturally been drawn to seeing people's inner essence, the core of who we are which is luminous and loving. I bring a presence rooted in compassion and empathy. I honor pain, suffering and grief. I also bring knowledge and skills gained from over 16 years as a professional bodyworker. I am grateful for this life path.

I look forward to sharing healing space together.
